

Threat Assessment Workshop – Individuals Exhibiting Concerning Behavior

The U.S. Secret Service (USSS), Southeastern Wisconsin Threat Analysis Center (STAC), Wisconsin Statewide Intelligence Center (WSIC), the U.S. Attorney's Office (USAO) and the DHS Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA) invite you to attend a FREE USSS National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) Workshop.

This workshop will consist of the following topics:

- Identifying potential threats and individuals who may be exhibiting concerning behaviors in the community
- Investigating and gathering information on the background and behaviors of concerning individuals
- Assessing whether individuals pose a threat of violence or other harmful behavior
- Developing risk management strategies and interventions
- Interactive case studies

This training, provided by U.S. Secret Service, will be based on operational research conducted by the National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) and will offer best practices on preventing incidents of targeted violence. The workshop will offer partners the opportunity to identify, assess, and manage individuals exhibiting concerning behavior, based on U.S. Secret Service methodologies.
